The Interface Financial Group (IFG) is North America's largest alternative funding source for small business, providing short-term financial resources including single invoice factoring or spot factoring (invoice discounting). Serving clients in more than 30 industries in the United States, Canada, Australia and New Zealand, IFG offers cross-border transaction facilities between the U.S. and Canada. With over 140 offices across North America and over 35 years of experience, IFG provides innovative spot factoring solutions by offering short-term working capital to growing businesses who often find it difficult to attract conventional funding. IFG purchases selected invoices at a discount. It is a fast, easy, and affordable way to turn receivables into cash.

One of the oldest and most widely used forms of funding for businesses, standard factoring has been around for thousands of years. Many businesses do not get paid immediately for delivered products or services; however in order to sustain and grow the business every company needs cash. Spot factoring benefits businesses that do not get paid for 30, 60 or 90 days by advancing up to 90 percent against invoices. IFG looks at the creditworthiness of the client's customers and can fund within as little as 24 hours. IFG does not expect to buy 100 percent of a company's receivables, and there are no minimum or maximum sales volume requirements. IFG's professional rates are competitive; each client's circumstances will vary and may have an impact on the fees.

Because IFG offers clients a “use it as you need it” funding option, each invoice purchase is a separate transaction and does not form part of a portfolio lending approach. The transaction is modeled as a buy-sell transaction. IFG first undertakes a due diligence that typically takes one to two business days. Once completed the client is at liberty to offer invoices to IFG for purchase. Upon receipt of invoices, IFG checks the credit of the debtor named on the invoice and makes sure that the sale represented has been satisfactorily completed. Once this is done the debtor is advised of the purchase by IFG and the client receives their funding. At the end of the credit period the debtor pays IFG directly completing the transaction.

IFG’s spot factoring service is user friendly, fast, flexible, and cost effective. If clients choose to offer further factoring invoices to IFG the total transaction time is often reduced to just two to eight hours. While IFG is a multinational organization, each client works with local offices, building a working relationship with professionals who understand the local environment and who get to know them, their business and their situation.

IFG was founded in 1972 to provide working capital to help small to medium sized businesses grow. IFG operates on a local level, providing clients with local knowledge, experience, and business expertise in a number of diverse areas including accounting, finance, law, marketing and banking.
